10

5

 This invention pertains to compounds which specifically inhibit the adenosine  $A_3$  receptor and the use of these compounds to treat a disease associated with  $A_3$  adenosine receptor in a subject, comprising administering to the subject a therapeutically effective amount of the compounds.